Hope Benefit Netted $20,000

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — A spokesman for the University of Arkansas Alumni Association's Endowment and Trust Fund said Monday that the fund netted about $20,000 from the recent performance of comedian Bob Hope.

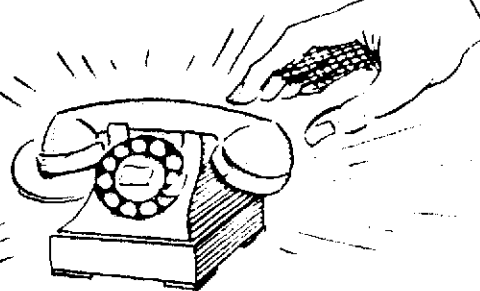

THINKS MONEY

from $100 a month to $130 per individual two years ago, and last year the length of the benefit was extended to 36 months—or a full eight semesters in college—for any veteran who was in the service more than 18 months.

The bill now before the Senate, in addition to raising the monthly payments for college, provides some new benefits. It would include payments to train veterans who want to learn farming, set up apprenticeship allowances, make payments to help in vocational rehabilitation, and establish help for high school dropouts and disadvantaged young people.

Two others remained at large. Arrested at Monticello High School Tuesday were William Porter, 40, and Leon Whitfield, 25.

The arrests came after Edward Parham, principal of the school, notified police that two men had illegally parked a truck in the school parking lot.

Three others were captured shortly after the escape. They were Jimmy Pheuffer, Marvin Sterrett and Ronald Angel of Fort Smith.

Still free were William Flynn, 25, and Harold Bryan, 32.

Paul McCaslin, new owner and operator of Shipley's Studio was formally inducted into the Kiwanis Club by President K. G. Hamilton.

Mrs. McCaslin accompanied her husband for his induction. Guests were Key Clubbers Dan Stuart, Charles Sharpe, Rev. Larry Gaines, Charles Haynie Jessie Puckett, and Bob Roberts.

Labor Groups Trying to Patch Quarrel

By NEIL GILBRIDE

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. and European Labor leaders are quietly trying to patch up a quarrel that led the AFL-CIO to stalk out of the International Confederation of Free Trade Unions in an angry huff eight months ago.

AFL-CIO President George Meany, in announcing the break last February, accused an ICFU official of meddling in U.S. labor affairs by siding with "a hostile secessionist union"—Walter Reuther's United Auto Workers.

Meany will lead a high level AFL-CIO delegation to New York next Monday for a "unity" talk with ICFU President Bruno Storfi of Italy, General Secretary Harm G. Butler of the Netherlands and other officials.

A spokesman for Meany described the talks as "the opening of negotiations" and cautioned against any early speculation that the AFL-CIO might rejoin the international group.

"The problems are pretty grave," the spokesman said.

Meany was outraged by Butler's attempt to get a new independent membership in the ICFU for the Auto Workers even before Reuther pulled his union out of the AFL-CIO in a leadership dispute with Meany last year.

The ICFU later rejected Reuther's application, but Meany said Butler not only should never have considered it, but should have sided with AFL-CIO.

The loss of the 13.6 million-member AFL-CIO cost the ICFU about $360,000 a year for its work in promoting relations among non-communist trade union movements and seeking improved international standards for workers.

Local Kiwanian, Carter Russell and C.M. "Pod" Rogers, Ambassadors of the Watermelon Capitol of the World, Hope, gave an account of their travels to the hinterlands with a load of prize melons in a talk before the Hope Kiwanis Club at its meeting Tuesday.

The program arranged by Kiwanian Tom Ed Hays, Jr., recounted highlights of the recent trip of Carter and Pod to the West Coast where they managed to appear in coast to coast TV programs with Hope's most publicized product, Giant Melons. Carter and Pod evidently enjoyed their trip immensely, but at the same time they gained publicity for their home town that thousands of dollars could not buy.

In the top picture a bit of horseplay is carried out by Judge George Walden who plays the role of Judge Sullenberger. In his opening remarks Pod Rogers said he had been accused of falsehoods and misrepresentation when he and Carter Russell talked at the Rotary Club last week. So requested "Judge Sullenberger" to attest to his honesty. So Judge Walden, playing the role of Sullenberger presented Mr. Rogers a plaque that said: "This certificate will permit Mr. Pod Rogers of Hope, Ark. to continue his lying ways about said city. His opinions and ideas will not be questioned by any group or individuals."

Can Pay Tax With Your Bank Card

By JOHN R. STARR

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The age of the credit card has come full cycle. Starting Dec. 1, you can pay your state taxes with your BankAmericard.

Yes, your BankAmericard. That's for now. Maybe later you'll be able to use other credit cards.

To explain for the uninitiated, the BankAmericard is a universal credit card issued by many Arkansas banks. It can be used to charge a large variety of items in a large number of shops and service businesses. You get one bill at the end of the month.

Comes the bill, and you can either pay the entire amount, without interest, or ante up a portion and pay interest on the unpaid balance at a rate of 10 per cent a year.

The Revenue Department began Tuesday explaining the BankAmericard system to department employees at a regional meeting at Jonesboro. Word of the innovation leaked to news media there, Revenue Commissioner Bob Scott confirmed in Little Rock that taxes on credit will arrive in Arkansas shortly.

Scott said the Revenue Department hoped to withhold an announcement on the charge plan until its series of seven regional meetings was complete four weeks from now.

"We wanted to brief our employees first," Scott said. "Otherwise we felt we would waste too much time answering queries."

Revenue Department equipment already has been set up for the credit system, Scott said, but the target date for implementation is Dec. 1.

Scott said several other states already have procedures for using a credit card to pay taxes. "But, as far as I know, Arkansas is the only state that won't have to pay a discount to BankAmericard. This won't cost the state a thing."

Kennedy Case Hearing Continues

By LEE LINDER

Associated Press Writer

WILKES-BARRE, Pa. (AP) — Dist. Atty. Edmund Dinis says he will proceed with plans for an inquest into the death of Mary Jo Kopechne whether or not a judge permits exhumation of her body for an autopsy.

Judge Bernard C. Brominski of Common Pleas Court reserved judgment Tuesday after a two-day hearing on a petition by the Massachusetts official to have the body disinterred for a postmortem examination.

Dinis had contended that an autopsy was needed to pin down the cause of the death of the 28-year-old secretary whose body was found July 19 in Sen. Edward M. Kennedy's submerged car. Dr. Donald R. Mills, associate medical examiner of Duke county, Mass., ruled she drowned.

Willie Bebnesta and Miss Rosa Lee Smart all of Detroit, Mich.

Besides his father he is survived by his mother, Mrs. Tommy Garham, a brother, James Jones, two sisters, Debra Jones of Superior and Mrs. Patricia Danski of Mesa, Ark., and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Galloway of Hope.

CLAIMS AGNEW

time has come to move from protective reaction to an announcement that on a certain date we will stop firing, and if we are not fired on a cease fire will occur."

Scott did not suggest any date. He spoke to reporters on the Senate floor.

Mansfield said the new approach of protective reaction means U.S. forces fire only when there is a threat they will be fired upon.

Scott said the cease fire he seeks should cover both U.S. and South Vietnamese forces.

Earlier, Sen. George S. McGovern accused Vice President Spiro T. Agnew today of cynically attempting "to discredit the patriotism" of Vietnam dissenters and said Nixon must have approved the tactic.

"If Mr. Agnew's speech is a measure of the administration's moral and mental sensitivity, God help America," the South Dakota Democrat said in a Senate statement.

The White House said Agnew's Sunday denunciation of antiwar demonstrators had not been discussed in advance with Nixon.

"I think the vice president spoke his own mind," said Hugh Scott, Senate Republican leader.

McGovern's attack on administration war policy and on Agnew personally came while other Senate dissenters were easing their criticism, in anticipation of Nixon's Nov. 3 report to the nation.

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee called off, until sometime after that address, its planned week of Vietnam policy hearings keyed to a series of resolutions urging U.S. withdrawal, and one which calls on Hanoi for peace concessions.

Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., the chairman, said the sessions were postponed as a matter of courtesy to Nixon.

It seemed also that policy critics were reluctant to hold the public inquiry, certain to produce complaints about the Nixon course, only days before the President himself was to deliver an address which might undercut them.

McGovern protested Agnew's Sunday statement that antiwar demonstrators were anarchists spurred on by "impudent snobs," and that they were siding with the enemy in Vietnam.

"I charge him with making a deliberate and cynical effort to around contempt for the college students of America," McGovern said.

Johnson May Run as a Republican

By BILL SIMMONS

Associated Press Writer

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Jim Johnson, who kissed the Democratic party goodbye 15 months ago and embraced the American party of Arkansas, is flirting with the idea of running for governor as a Republican.

Recent rumor had hinted as much, and Johnson confirmed it Tuesday.

The first word came in an article in the Pine Bluff Commercial by the Commercial's political analyst, Harry Pearson. Johnson restated his thinking Tuesday night to The Associated Press.

A switch to the GOP would bring full circle the man who spearheaded the American party movement in Arkansas and helped George C. Wallace take the state out of the Democratic party column for the first time ever in a presidential race.

Johnson's American party activity began after he had run as a Democrat for the state Senate, attorney general's office, state Supreme Court, governor and U.S. Senate.

Govern said.

"He seeks to discredit the patriotism of those of us—young and old alike—who have opposed the war in Vietnam."

"There can be no doubt that he does this with the approval of the President," McGovern said.

"Mr. Agnew's attitude toward the peace effort and especially the moratorium demonstrates ignorance, both of the struggle in Vietnam and the political process in America."

Scott suggested a change in administration handling of the war protests.

"I volunteered an opinion that we could make the Nov. 15 effort our own by demonstrating what we are doing for peace," the Republican leader said.

He said the administration needs the confidence of America's young people and should welcome their concern.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield Tuesday repeated he thinks Nixon's current war policy amounts to a "cease-fire and stand fast of a sort."

The change in battlefield orders from "massive retaliation or search and destroy to protective reaction is a decided shift from the old policy," Mansfield said.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) - Television writers have often complained about a "double standard" of censorship—more leniency, more permissiveness for movie broadcasts than for regular TV series. This attitude may open the door a bit for a little extra action in this season's shows filmed primarily for television broadcast.

Tuesday night, for instance, ABC's "Movie of the Week" had what must be the roughest tussle of the season to date. It was an old-fashioned action show called "The Monk" and told of an amateur detective who got involved with the crime syndicate and, of course, murder.

The hero, Gus Monk—played effectively by George Maharis—took on two hired thugs, tossing vicious kicks and uppercuts. In the end he vanquished them by turning a hot shower on them, an anticlimax of sorts.

The tough, sad-sack private eye of the Philip Marlowe school returned on NBC's first "World Premiere" movie of the season, a minor effort called "The Lonely Profession."

It suffered from the problem that beset many of the series last season—too little plot and too much time to fill. What should have been a one-hour show was padded with action and camera tricks. But these plus a large and interesting cast made two hours of pretty good escape entertainment.

Harry Guardino played a poor but honest shamus—he was so honest he unhesitatingly turned down an offer of $250,000 a year for his silence—who was called upon by a terrified girl for protection. He tried, spending the night sleeping on the living room couch in her apartment but awakened to find she had been garrotted in a locked room.

He badgered his way to a conclusion, but the puzzle of the locked room was a throw-away, and the end was pretty clear to any whodunit fancier.

The private eye was sapped, badgered by the police, snubbed by his clients—and was caught every time he tried to break the case.

Dina Merrill, who usually plays such nice women, turned up as a predatory dame up to her neck in intrigue. She was quietly led away at the end, charged by the police and FBI with all sorts of unsavory crimes. Another off-beat bit of casting was Jack Carter as a criminal conspirator operating in the disguise of a third-rate comedian. Barbara McNair played a nightclub singer who helped the hapless hero and drove the car in the wild chase that climaxed the story.

Many of the "World Premiere" shows are designed as pilot for future series and so are the new "Movie of the Week" shows. If private eyes are on their way back, either of Tuesday night's characters would work—but they'd work better in one-hour time periods.

Night Club at El Dorado Padlocked

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP) - An El Dorado night club was ordered padlocked Tuesday after the owner pleaded guilty to contempt of court.

Circuit Court Judge Harry Crumpler issued the padlock order.

Jordan Washington, 42, of El Dorado, owner and operator of the establishment, was charged with contempt by violating an injunction issued last August against the sale of intoxicants. Deputy Prosecutor Beryl Anthony of El Dorado said the establishment, Washington's Confectionary, was also known as the "Bucket of Blood," and had been the scene of murder and other violent crimes in the last several months.

Hope Star SPORTS

Revenge Is in Minds of Bobcats

By: RALPH ROUNTON
Star Sports Writer

Revenge and vindication are the prime motives this week, as the Hope Bobcats prepare for Friday night's home clash against the favored Magnolia Panthers.

That revenge is against Magnolia High School in general, for some of the humiliating defeats suffered on various athletic fields in the past few years. The Bobcat juniors and seniors remember the 45-7 and 40-0 losses dealt by the same Magnolia players in junior high, coupled with last year's 41-0 bombing the Bobcats took from the Panthers.

Add to that the 102-43 embarrassment dealt the Bobcat basketballers last year in the Magnolia gym, and the sum total is an angry wound whose owner is ready to bite back.

Vindication would be the feeling with a Bobcat victory when the faint-hearted have already given up all hope. The odds-makers will lay good points for the Panthers to win, and Hope players have Friday night to prove that one loss doesn't ruin a team for good.

Surely, Magnolia will be no easy touch, but certainly not on the caliber with the angelically-perfect effort put forth by Fairview. The Magnolia Panthers had an off week after losing to Arkadelphia 25-8, and seem to be in better health after having as many as eight starters injured at one time.

Panther Coach Don Hubbard employs the platooning system with 22 different starters, but the hosses are gone from the 1968 edition that went 13-0 and claimed the state Class AA championship.

On the local scene, the coaching staff has not worked the Cats to death because of their loss at Fairview, but the practices this week have been full of what the squad does need to work on.

Everything else aside, you can flatly believe that this is the turning point for the Hope Bobcats. A five-game victory run outscoring the opposition 166-45 was shattered by a 29-0 count at Camden Fairview, but with a 5-2 mark the Cats still have the time and ability to come back against the final five teams on the schedule.

You can be as eloquent as you like, but to be truthful we can say that the Bobcats' 5-2 record is disappointing.

It doesn't look bad on paper, but given the personnel and potential Hope has, many teams could never be stopped. But the losses are behind now, and Magnolia is the first game of the new season with everything else forgotten.

The same can be said for the Yerger Junior Bobkittens, who try again to shirk the losing habit tomorrow night against, guess who, Magnolia in the Panther Cubs' den.

After three beautiful victories, the Kittens have fallen to 3-3 with some dismal scores against some dismal opponents. Coach Gaylord Solomon has worked on the kinks this week, and he will know for sure with the kickoff tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. YJHS wraps up the eight-game season next Thursday at Hammons Stadium against Camden Fairview.

Couple of Mets Head All Stars

By MIKE BRYSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Johnny Bench of the Cincinnati Reds and Tom Seaver of New York's world champion Mets head The Associated Press' all-star major league baseball team announced today.

The 21-year-old Bench, who hit .293 with 20 homers and 90 runs batted in in his second full season in the majors, was the top vote-getter, attracting 264 in the nation-wide balloting by 283 sports writers and broadcasters.

Seaver, the smooth right-hander whose 25-7 record was the best in the majors and whose exuberance and zest played a big role in the Mets miracle, was next with 237 votes.

He was the only member of the world champions to make either the first or second team. In fact, Cincinnati was the only team to land two players on the first team—outfielder Pete Rose, who led the National League with a .348 average, was the Reds' other representative.

Others on the first team were Willie McCovey of the San Francisco Giants at first, Rod Carew of Minnesota at second, Rico Petrocelli of Boston at shortstop, Ron Santo of the Chicago Cubs at third, outfielders Hank Aaron of Atlanta and Frank Howard of Washington and left-handed pitcher Mike Cuellar of Baltimore's American League champs.

Bench was an overwhelming choice as catcher. The young slugger's nearest rival, Bill Freehan of Detroit, drew only eight votes.

Seaver similarly was a solid choice as the right-handed pitcher, drawing 211 votes more than runner-up Denny McLain of Detroit, the 31-game winner of 1968 who was 24-9 last season.

Carew, who led the American League with a .322 average, beat out Glenn Beckert of the Cubs as the second baseman, 217 votes to 42.

Petrocelli, who hit .297 with 40 homers and 96 RBI, also had a comfortable margin over another Cub, Don Kessinger, at short — 234 votes to 40.

Aaron, who helped the Braves to the NL West title with a .299 average, 44 homers and 96 RBI, led the outfield balloting with 224.

Rose was next with 186 while Howard, who had his greatest year with 48 homers, 111 RBI and a .296 average, had 112.

The three runners-up were Frank Robinson of Baltimore (.308), Roberto Clemente of Pittsburgh (.345) and Reggie Jackson of Oakland (.276), who led the AL in homers much of the season before being sidelined late in the campaign and finishing with 47.

Jackson edged out Cleon Jones of the Mets for final outfield spot on the second team by just three votes.

Because of some vote splitting, Harmon Killebrew of Minnesota wound up as both the first and third baseman of the second team.

Killebrew, who hit .277 in leading the majors with 49 homers and 140 RBI, played both positions during the season and had 53 votes at first and 83 at third. However, his total vote for both positions—136—would still have put him behind either Santo at third or McCovey at first.

McCovey, who played a key role in the Giants' pennant bid, drew the attention of the voters with 45 homers, 126 RBI and a .320 average.

Santo, the Cubs' captain, produced 129 RBI, 29 homers and a .287 average.

Cuellar, 25-11 during the season and the winner of the Orioles' only triumph in the World Series, beat out teammate Dave McNally as the left-handed pitcher, 141 votes to 49.

Gil Hodges of the Mets and Ted Williams of Washington earlier were named the National and American League managers of the year, respectively.

Little Rolls Up Yardage for Denver

NEW YORK (AP) — Denver's Floyd Little, rolling up more than 100 rushing yards for the third time this year, has taken the lead in the American Football League's ground-gaining sweepstakes.

Little, plagued by injuries in his first two pro seasons, broke loose for 166 yards, a club record, in the Broncos' 30-23 victory over Cincinnati last Sunday and shot to a commanding lead over runner-up Dickie Post of San Diego in the individual

Stewart Is Best, Porker Coach Says

By HARRY KING
Associated Press Writer

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Terry Stewart, a student at safety for the Arkansas Razorbacks, has his first two seasons, was moved to defensive left halfback last spring.

Why?
"Our best against their best," said defensive backfield coach Hootie Ingram.

The fourth-ranked Razorbacks do not flip-flop their defensive backs, but teams tend to throw to their right which usually matches Stewart against the opponent's top receiver.

"Actually, he's the best all-around halfback we've had in the three years I've been here," said Ingram. "He's real good in man-to-man coverage. He's a fine tackler and he supports the defense against the run real well."

Ingram said he could remember only one time when Stewart had been beaten on deep pass routes in three years and that was in last year's Texas game. "He hasn't made but one interception this year, but he's broken up some passes that have been unbelievable," Ingram said. "He's gotten his hand on at least 10 or 12 passes in our first four games."

Against Texas a Christian, Stewart had the difficult task of covering flanker Linzy Cole, who has 9.6 speed.

"He made two All-American plays against Cole," said coach Frank Broyles.

Once, he stayed right with Cole on a sideline pattern in the end zone and on another occasion he went high and out-fought the receiver to make an interception.

"Cole, right now, is one of the toughest in our league to cover," said Ingram. "He has great moves and it was just dog eat dog, ability versus ability."

Ingram says Stewart, who has 4.5 speed in the 40, can play football. He's 6 foot-1 and weighs 191.

"The type defenses we are running are more pro-oriented and he's had experience in playing both the corner and safety," Ingram said. "He does the things you want a cornerback to do."

There's no doubt that Stewart is a winner.

Last year against Baylor, he threw a block that started Gary Adams on a 79-yard punt return, then got up, raced 60 yards downfield and took out the last potential Baylor tackler.

Ingram calls Stewart the "most outstanding man in college in America."

"He's served as president of his senior class," Ingram said. "He's an A student in chemical engineering and he's a fine Christian youngster who will stand up and explain his views on living."

rushing race.

The former Syracuse University flash, who sat out one of Denver's five games with a shoulder injury, burned the Bengals with a 48-yard touchdown jaunt while bringing his total yardage to 530. Post, last week's leader, picked up just 14 yards against Boston for a five-game total of 386.

New York's Joe Namath, completing 12 of 24 passes against Houston Monday night for 306 yards and a pair of touchdowns, grabbed the passing lead from Cincinnati rookie Greg Cook.

Daryle Lamonia, whose six touchdown passes led Oakland to a 50-21 romp over Buffalo, also gained ground. The Raiders' ace has tossed 17 scoring strikes, 10 more than any other AFL quarterback.

Porkers Hang Onto Leads Statistically

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Arkansas did not play last week, but Razorback performers still managed to hang onto their Southwest Conference statistical leads in rushing, scoring, punting and punt returns.

Bill Burnett has the lead in rushing and scoring with 393 yards gained in 88 carries and 42 points scored. Cary Stockdell leads in punting with a 43.7 average and Terry Stewart is the leading punt returner with 105 yards gained on nine returns.

Two Southern Methodist standouts, Chuck Hixson and Gary Hammond, are leaders in five other individual categories.

Hixson, who this week regained the national lead in passing, heads the SWC with 112 completions in 184 attempts for a 60.9 per cent accuracy.

Hixson also leads in total offense with 1,140 yards. Hammond leads in pass receiving (30 catches for 426 yards), tandem offense (41 catches and run for 485 yards) and in kickoff returns (14 for 317).

Texas Tech's Denton Fox, the only non-SMU or Arkansas player to lead an individual category, paced the league in interceptions with three for 83 yards and one touchdown.

Texas remained the team total offense leader with a 395.8 average for four games and Arkansas has the total defense lead with a 231.5 average through four games.

Phillips Out, Soph Might Take His Place

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Sophomore Don Wunderley will be in position for game experience when the Arkansas Razorbacks meet Wichita State in Little Rock Saturday.

Coach Frank Broyles said Tuesday that the 6-foot, 4-inch, 225-pounder from Fort Scott, Kan., would fill the vacancy created by the injury of second-string defensive tackle Terry Don Phillips.

Phillips will miss about three games with a back injury, Broyles said.

The No. 1 man at the slot, Rick Kersey, also has been bothered recently by injuries. Broyles evidently wants to give Wunderley some game experience in case both Phillips and Kersey become too injured to play some of the upcoming key games.

Aztecs Are Crushing Everybody

By RON ROACH

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Ohio State said no, politely. So did Alabama. But this is only the first year as a major college football team for San Diego State, "Ohio State will come around," a fan said.

The Aztecs, to date, are 4-0 and crushing everyone around. In their last 37 games, they've lost once.

Statistically, San Diego State after four games was fourth in the nation in defense, giving up 186.3 yards in the average; was sixth in total offense with 474.0 yards, second in forward passing offense with 312.3 yards and seventh in scoring with 38.8 average.

"To heck with statistics," Coach Don Coryell said Tuesday. "We just want to win ball games. By one point, if necessary."

Coryell's record since coming to San Diego in 1961 from the University of Southern California, where he was backfield coach, is 72-11-2.

Coryell was thinking of one statistical record in particular — touchdown passes caught — which nearly cost the Aztecs victory Saturday night against University of Texas at Arlington.

Quarterback Dennis Shaw was trying to pitch TD pass No. 9 to end Tom Reynolds, another in the line of Aztec receivers that once included Buffalo's Haven Moses and San Diego's Gary Garrison in the American Football League.

The Aztec drives were stopped twice when Shaw's end zone aerials intended for the closely guarded Reynolds were intercepted. San Diego state finally won 17-10.

"Statistics are nice," he said. "They're one way to get national recognition. But let's face it — we're not going to be ranked in the top 10 in the near future. "It's nice to be mentioned around the country because it might help us schedule a good ball game — but not at the expense of losing a game."

One western school recently added to San Diego's 1970 schedule is Brigham Young.

Figures Hogs, Texas to Roll on

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Jim Sweeney of Washington State and John Ray of Kentucky have something in common and it's not calculated to bring back pleasant memories.

Sweeney's team lost to UCLA and Stanford, who play the big game on the West Coast Saturday in Palo Alto, Calif., while Ray's club bowed to Auburn and Louisiana State, who meet at Baton Rouge, La., in an all-important Southeastern Conference clash.

Who better to make the lead-off college football picks this week.

"UCLA and Stanford are both tremendous teams, and that's an understatement," says Sweeney. "They're both sophisticated on attack. If you take away the run, they're able to burn you with the pass, and vice versa."

"Stanford plays a clawing, scrapping type of defense with more men on the line of scrimmage. They try to make you make mistakes. UCLA plays you softer and tries to read you a lot more. They don't press you as much as Stanford does, but they play in perfect unison and they play almost perfect pass defense."

"Stanford has more of a pro passing attack. They send out more receivers. But UCLA's is precision perfect, a beautiful thing to watch. They run perfect routes and their protection is really good."

Both teams have similarities. UCLA, ranked sixth, is fourth nationally in total offense, ninth in rushing offense; Stanford ranked 19th, is second in total offense, fourth in passing offense. UCLA has an outstanding quarterback in Dennis Dismitt and a great linebacker in Mike Ballou; Stanford has an outstanding quarterback in Jim Plunkett and a great linebacker in Don Parish.

"But," says Sweeney, "I think UCLA has more poise, great poise. They're the least hurried and best executing team I've ever seen."

The pick is . . . UCLA. Thank you, Mr. Sweeney.

Auburn and LSU also have impressive credentials. The 14th-ranked Tigers—Auburn variety—are 10th in total offense, first in total defense and fifth in pass defense. The ninth-ranked Tigers—LSU variety—are 11th in total offense, third in total defense and second in rushing defense.

Both sides have good runners and execute their short passing game well. LSU surprised Kentucky by unseating Tommy Casanova, previously a defensive back, on offense and the speedster looked good.

"It should be a real fine football game," says John Ray. "LSU has more backfield speed and more depth and should have an edge playing at home."

The pick is . . . the Tigers LSU variety. Thank you, Mr. Ray.

Ohio state over Illinois Illinois over the last team to beat the Buckeyes. . . and Woody Hayes doesn't forget.

Texas over Rice—Rice pudding . . . and a cup of tea. Arkansas over Wichita State — Even Glen Campbell wouldn't help the Wichita linemen.

Missouri over Colorado— But it could be the upset special.

Southern California over Georgia Tech— First of four warmups for UCLA.

Penn State over Ohio U.— Why Oh Why Oh Did I Ever Leave Ohio?

Florida over Vanderbilt— More raves for Reeves. Oklahoma over Kansas State — Sooner, not later.

Houston over Mississippi— Astro-dome scoreboard may explode for real.

Some Notes About Auto Racing

By BLOYS BRITT

AP Auto Racing Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The General Motors Camaro has wrapped up its second manufacturer's trophy of the 1969 auto racing season, this one in NASCAR's Grand Touring division.

Paced by young Pete Hamilton's 10 victories in the first 31 races, Camaro compiled almost as many points as Cougar, Mustang, Javelin and other makes combined. While Javelin was represented by factory equipment, Mustang and Cougar were not.

Camaro earlier had clinched the Sports Car Club of America's Trans-American sedan title with drivers Mark Donohue and Ron Bucknum dominating. GM also has been awarded the 1969 manufacturer's trophy in the National Hot Rod Association stock eliminator categories.

Alex Ulmann, pioneer of the 12-hour race at Sebring, Fla., told New York Writers, the 1971 event will be the last one on the famed Sebring airport course.

Ulmann said he will build a new circuit on a 700-acre tract near the airport and have it ready for the 1972 event.

Ulmann, incidentally, has sold sponsorship of his Dec. 28 Continental Formula A race to a cigarette company. The SCCA Formula A title will be decided in this race.

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

RULES WE LIVE BY SOMETIMES WRONG

Dear Helen: Why does the world ridicule a woman who marries a man younger than she, while if an older man picks a young chick, he's considered quite the blade?

I have been happily married for 27 years to a man 12 years younger. He was 21, I was 33, when we wed, and we went through some rough times trying to ignore the barbs and innuendos.

Yet had he been 33 and I 21, not one eyebrow would have been raised! This is idiotic when you consider that women live longer than men, age more slowly, and really come into their prime when they are over 30. I've read that men start going downhill by age 25.

The lady next door is married to a man younger than her daughter. I don't think either she or I look older than our husbands, although we never lie about our ages.

Isn't it time we cast aside another one of those false "rules"—that the man should be older than the woman he marries? Or anyway, not younger? What counts is: Are you friends as well as lovers—YOUNG SIXTY

Dear 60: You're so right. If two people care enough, age shouldn't matter. The key to happiness here is that each must be absolutely sure of the other's love—so sure, in fact, that "those whispers" become a private joke between them.—H.

Dear Helen: I am 62 years old, crippled and live alone. I must do my own grocery shopping and, with the aid of a crutch, I manage very well. Some stores do not have the automatic doors, and it's difficult for me to enter.

This may surprise some of your readers, but I have found that the young people who might be termed "hippies" are the ones who go out of their way to help me. Those with long hair and somewhat unusual dress are most kind and thoughtful—and this happens repeatedly.—MRS. D.H.

Dear Mrs. H.: Thank you for pointing out what too many elders won't see: When we accept young people, they go out of their way to accept us!—H.

Dear Helen: My husband is a coffee hound. When he's on the job, he and his buddies make at least two trips a day for coffee. When he's off, it's at least four times a day. These trips to town last anywhere from one to three hours. Sometimes they leave as late as 1:00 a.m. for coffee.

You can see this cuts into my husband's at-home time. There are many repair jobs around the house that have waited several years, just because he's addicted to coffee. What can I do?—DISGUSTED out with the boys," and the only way you can change him is to make "staying home with the girl" just as much fun. Meanwhile, be glad he sticks to coffee.—H.

Favorite Hard to Find at San Francisco

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Golf Writer
SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Billy Casper is the defending champion and Arnold Palmer the sentimental choice, but a clear cut favorite is hard to find in the $100,000 San Francisco Open Golf Tournament.

With about 60 winners on the tour already this year and no one dominating the game as Palmer, Casper, Gary Player and Jack Nicklaus have done in recent years, a flock of young lions must be among the top choices.

They include Ray Floyd, the controversial PGA champion and winner of three events; outspoken Dave Hill, the only other three-time winner this year; steady Frank Beard, the year's leading money winner; and possibly slim Dale Douglass, who has played very well in recent events.

Palmer, however, is almost certain to be the gallery favorite. The 40-year-old millionaire is on a comeback from a two-month absence from the game that he, more than any other man, made a popular favorite.

He hasn't won in more than a year and had a disappointing last start in his comeback in the Sahara Invitational last week, finishing far back in the field. But the old crowd-appeal magic still exists.

Nicklaus, winner of the Sahara, is taking a week off. "I haven't been home in four weeks, and that's too long," big Jack said after his victory in Las Vegas.

Also among the missing are Lee Trevino and Orville Moody, who teams to win the World Cup for the United States a few weeks ago. Both are on tour in the Far East. Player is through for the year.

George Archer, the Masters champion who had to pull out of the Sahara because of continuing tendonitis in his left elbow, is a question mark. If he's able to play, the 6-foot-6 Archer must be rated among the favorites because of his familiarity with the Harding Park course.

Other top candidates include British Open champion Tony Jacklin, lefty Bob Charles of New Zealand, and possibly even Ted Hayes, the rookie from Atlanta who has made a strong showing in his first two tour events.

The tournament being played under the San Francisco Open Label for the first time, replaces the Lucky International on the tour schedule. It's under new sponsorship.

repeatedly in recent investigations of organized crime. Sen. John L. McClellan's permanent investigations subcommittee, for example, describes Lansky as "one of the country's top gangsters."

Frank Johnson, chairman of the Nevada Gaming Control Board, was asked about the state's official attitude toward any Lansky involvement in gambling activities here. "He is not the kind of man we want doing business in this state," Johnson said. "And that's putting it as mildly as I can."

The purchase price of the Flamingo was $10.5 million. Parvin was the principal stockholder with more than a 30 per cent share of the company which sold the hotel-casino. Harry Goldman, Parvin's partner in Parvin-Dohrmann—a multimillion-dollar-a-year hotel supply business in Los Angeles—held 7½ per cent. Other stockholders included singer Tony Martin and actor George Raft.

Parvin said in an interview in 1964 that four years earlier he contacted Douglas and sought his help in setting up the foundation. Douglas agreed.

Tax records of the Parvin Foundation dating back to 1962 show that Douglas was serving as president at an annual salary of $12,000. Proceeds from the Flamingo sale show up regularly through 1968 as one of the foundation's largest assets.

Foundation tax records prior to 1962 are not public information.

Douglas came under sharp congressional criticism last spring for his involvement with the foundation, especially when it was disclosed that he wrote Parvin telling him that an Internal Revenue Service investigation of the foundation was "a manufactured case."

In May, Douglas resigned as president of the foundation.

The Parvin Foundation has also had an interest in several Las Vegas hotels and casinos by virtue of the Parvin-Dohrmann stock it held. Parvin-Dohrmann owns three casinos here, the Aladdin, the Fremont and the Stardust.

Harvey Silbert, secretary of the foundation, said it severed all its gambling ties in May—the same month Douglas resigned as foundation president—when it sold its shares of Parvin-Dohrmann. Silbert also said the Flamingo mortgage was paid off earlier this year.

Parvin has sold out his interest in Parvin-Dohrmann as well, but still maintains the foundation.

In June, after Parvin sold out, Parvin-Dohrmann and Denny's Restaurants Inc. announced they would merge, but the plans were cancelled earlier this month. Several days later both firms and their officers found themselves embroiled with the Securities and Exchange Commission.

provisions of the Federal securities laws in connection with the now defunct merger plans. The SEC also accused Parvin of filing a false and misleading proxy statement with the Commission.

It is not known how long Lansky and Parvin knew each other prior to their 1960 business dealings, but Lansky had known the three principal purchasers of the Flamingo for some time.

Records of the Nevada Gaming Control Board show that Cohen, Lansburgh and Litter are associates in a number of large Miami Beach hotels including the San Sani, Dearville, Sherry Frontenac, Casablanca and Versailles. Additional Florida records show they also have been associates in the Crown Hotel, the Eden Roc Hotel and the Walkiki Motel, all also in Miami Beach.

Howard Tops in Senior Meet

PINEHURST, N.C. (AP) — Alan Howard, of Davenport, Iowa, topped the two-day qualifying for the North and South Senior Golf Championship with a 36-hole total of 143 Tuesday.

Tennessee Players Get Honors

By HERSCHEL NENSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
If Steve Kiner were voting for the movie Oscars, his choice would be the man who takes the University of Tennessee's football films.

Kiner, an All-American line-backer in 1968, was credited with eight unassisted tackles and two assists after Saturday's 41-14 rout of Alabama. But after

Things Good for Knicks, Bad for Celts

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Things have never been so good for the New York Knicks and it looks as if they've never been so bad for the Boston Celtics.

The Knicks, an experienced, balanced scoring machine, mauled the outclassed Phoenix Suns 140-116 in the National Basketball Association Tuesday night for their fifth consecutive victory without a loss, their best start in history.

The Celtics, on the other hand, playing without retired Bill Russell who led them to 11 world titles in 13 seasons, have yet to win a game in three tries for new coach Tom Heinsohn after the Detroit Pistons rallied for a 98-97 victory.

In the only other game scheduled, Los Angeles rang up a 142-137 overtime victory over more after losing its first two games. The Bullets lost for the first time in three outings.

In the American Basketball Association, Kentucky beat Washington 127-115, Dallas stopped Denver 120-108 and Los Angeles topped New Orleans 119-99.

The Knicks, with Walt Frazier stealing the ball, setting up baskets and scoring 28 points himself in only 29 minutes of action, broke away from the Suns early in the second period for a 62-49 halftime bulge that grew larger and larger.

Connie Hawkins, Phoenix' new superstar from the ABA, managed 27 points, but most of them came after the contest was decided.

Boston couldn't hold onto its lead after pulling from an 83-all deadlock to an 89-83 lead with four minutes remaining. After Dave Bing put the Pistons ahead 96-95, John Havlicek gave Boston back the lead with 17 seconds to go.

But Don Chaney fouled Jimmy Walker with seven seconds left and he sank two free throws to give Detroit a 1-1 record.

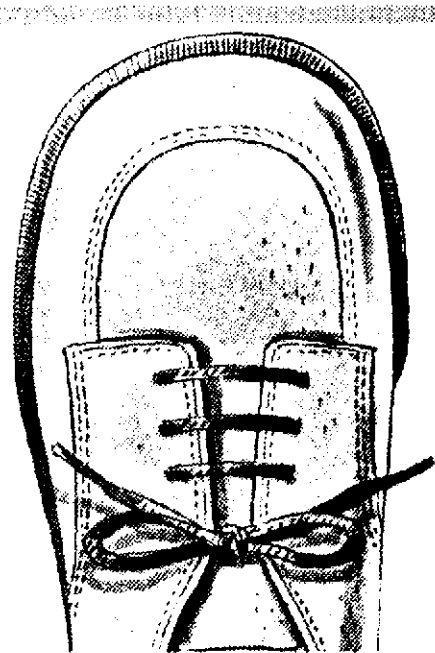

viewing the films, the coaching staff upgraded Kiner to 11 solo tackles and three assists.

HOPE NEWSPAPER HISTORY:
The 1929 consolidation joined the two principal newspaper lines dating back to within five years of Hope's incorporation in 1875.

1899 — Star of Hope founded as a weekly by Claude Mc-Corkle; converted to an evening daily Jan. 1, 1920, by his son, Ed. McCorkle, publishing until the 1929 consolidation.

The opposition line:
1880 — Hope News founded by Lowry Brothers.

1883 — Sold to Withers & Johnson, name changed to Hope Telegraph.

1883 — Later in same year resold to Claude McCorkle and renamed Hope Mercury.

1884 — Sold to James H. Betts, who named it Hope Gazette, under which name it was published continuously until 1922, published by
Betts, J.L. Tullis, and Col. W.W.
Folsom the last-named dying in 1916.

1916 — Purkins & Gates bought the weekly Gazette and made it a companion paper to their new daily, Arkansas Evening Herald
— but both papers suspended in 1922.

1926 — Plant was revived by Curtis Cannon as the weekly
Hempstead County Review.

1927 — Cannon sold plant to D.A. Gean, who established the morning Hope Daily Press.

1929 — C. E. Palmer and A.H.
Washburn consolidated The Star and the Press as Hope Star, with Palmer as president and Washburn secretary-treasurer.

1957 — Following Mr. Palmer's death Mrs. Palmer became president.

1969 — With Mrs. Palmer's retirement from Star Publishing Co. Washburn became 76 per cent owner and president — balance 24 per cent being held by Texarkana Newspapers, Inc.

In "How to Play a Better Game of Bridge," Reese and Dormer describe the avoidance play as an attempt to avoid an untimely blow from an opponent's high card. South takes East's king of spades with the ace and sees that he has a cinch for nine tricks if he can score four diamond tricks. It is up to him to attack diamonds and the careless player does so immediately. He leads a diamond toward dummy. East's ace collects one of dummy's honors and a spade return sets up three spade tricks for East.

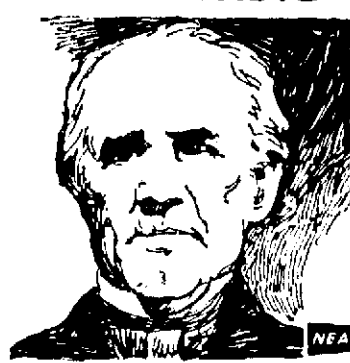

This doesn't worry our careless declarer. He lays down his queen of diamonds and sees West discard a low heart. All of a sudden, summer has turned to winter. South is not going to collect four diamond tricks and he isn't going to make his contract.

Could South have avoided this debacle by attacking hearts instead of diamonds? No. He only holds a four-card heart suit and can only develop three heart tricks.

The avoidance play was there to save him. He should simply enter dummy at trick two and lead diamonds toward his own hand. Should West hold the ace of diamonds, he would win but a spade lead from West would not worry South at all.

East does hold the diamond ace. If he rises, South has four diamond tricks, since the ace hasn't gobbled up an honor. Should he duck.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

The political career of Sam Houston was one spanning 42 years and many offices. The World Almanac notes that from 1819 to 1861, Houston held such posts as attorney general, U.S. congressman, governor of Tennessee, president of the Republic of Texas, and U.S. senator and governor of the state of Texas. His career was ended in 1861 when, as governor of Texas, he refused to take an oath of allegiance to the Confederate government.

Thinks Money for Returning GIs Too Much

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon, battling Congress over money again, says a $600-million increase over the $130 million... education benefit available to a returning Vietnam veteran is excessive.

The $600 increase is in a bill that goes on the Senate calendar today and may be called up Thursday for debate.

"As President, I have no option but to view with extreme concern the possible enactment of this measure," Nixon said Tuesday in possibly hinting a veto if the bill passes.

The President's statement came in a letter to Sen. Ralph W. Yarborough, D-Tex., chairman of a Senate Labor subcommittee which championed the $600 boost.

A House-approved version of the bill called for a $35 jump and Nixon said he favored a $17 increase.

The $17 figure the President is pushing is the recommendation of a Cabinet-level committee headed by Veterans Administrator Donald E. Johnson.

Backers of a hefty boost in the GI educational benefits say the $130 base currently allowed is totally inadequate and as a result young soldiers returning from Vietnam are forced to pass up college or training.

Veterans Administration statistics show that out of 3.1 million Vietnam era veterans in civilian life, only 754,424 or just under 24 per cent, participated in training programs in the three years which ended last June 30.

The GI benefits were raised

Money for Foundation Justice Headed Came From Famous Mobster

By JEANHELLER
Associated Press Writer

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — A major source of financial support for the foundation which Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas headed for nine years came from a deal set up by Meyer Lansky, one of the nation's most notorious mobsters.

Under a contract signed by Albert Parvin, Lansky was paid $200,000 for acting as middleman in setting up the 1960 sale of the Flamingo Hotel here. Parvin, former head of the Parvin-Dohrmann Co. of Los Angeles, was president and 30 per cent owner of the company seeking to sell the hotel-casino, Hotel Flamingo, Inc.

The Flamingo was sold to a group which included Florida hotelmen Samuel Cohen, Morris Lansburgh and Daniel Lifter.

The $200,000 was a finders fee which Lansky received for introducing the sellers to the Florida men interested in buying the hotel.

Parvin used a portion of the proceeds from the sale of the Flamingo to help set up the Al-

Arsenal to Set Off Dynamite

NORTH LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Police said that Pine Bluff Arsenal munition experts today would detonate more than 100 sticks of dynamite found in the nearby Indian Head Lake area Tuesday.

Officers said the detonations would be in a sealed off wooded area and posed no danger to houses or citizens, although the sound of the blasts might be audible in populated areas.

Police were led to the dynamite after parents were told of the find by youngsters. The dynamite was part of supplies kept in store by a construction company, police reported.

Urges a Fair Hearing for Businesses

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller Tuesday urged a "fair hearing" for Arkansas businesses when they confer with those in the securities fields.

"In Arkansas, we are working very hard and are making great progress," Rockefeller told the National Securities Administrators Conference here.

The governor said the 600 persons attending the conference could be "most helpful in this effort, and I ask that you give Arkansas business a fair hearing when they come to you."

Those at the conference represented stock exchanges, the Securities Exchange Commission, investors and lawyers.

Rockefeller said he hoped the proposed new state constitution would create a "better regulatory environment—one not excessively dependent on the comment and integrity of the governor of the moment."

The Division Chairmen of the Hempstead County United Fund met at 7:30 Tuesday morning to receive the pledge cards for the 1970 Drive. Drive Co-Chairman Bill O'Neal urged that all Division Chairmen try to complete their divisions within a weeks time. He also reminded all that this years drive is dedicated to the late Jim Pruden.

Ray Lawrence, Advance and Special Gifts Chairman, reported that he already had cash or pledges for over $1,500. This is response of less than 50 per cent of the contacts and it is expected to reach a total in excess of $3,000 before the drive is completed.

The agencies participating in the 1970 Campaign, and the amounts are:

Salvation Army	2,000.00
Boy Scouts of America	5,000.00
Girl Scouts	4,700.00
American Red Cross	3,600.00
Arkansas Association for Mental Health	600.00
United Cerebral Palsy	500.00
Arthritis Foundation	1,700.00
United Services Organization, Inc.	500.00
Underprivileged Children & Day Care Center	1,000.00
Local Association for Retarded Children	1,000.00
Arkansas Association for Retarded Children	1,000.00
National Travelers Aid	100.00

Cancer, Polio, Muscular Dystrophy, Multiple Sclerosis, and Heart are grouped together for $2,000.00. This money is used locally to help pay hospital, drug and other necessary costs of needy patients. These National Agencies have been offered money in the past and the checks sent to them that exceeded the amount they raise, but they still want to conduct their own drives and have returned the checks.

Enlistments Surprisingly Are Ample

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The armed services surprisingly are filling their enlistment quotas—and then some—despite President Nixon's moves to reduce the impact of the draft.

Enlistment figures from the Army, Marines, Navy and Air Force show they have had no trouble reaching their volunteer objectives.

This comes as a surprise to some Pentagon manpower officials. They anticipated a drop in enlistments after Nixon more than a month ago canceled November-December draft calls and said he would order Selective Service reforms about Jan. 1.

The draft long has been considered a stimulus to enlistments, with many youths preferring to sign up for the service and sometimes the assignment of their choice rather than being hauled in and put where the Army needs them.

$100,000 for Flood Control

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Army Engineers said Tuesday that a $100,000 flood control project along Fource Creek in Pulaski County has been authorized.

President Nixon's cutback in federal construction spending means the actual work on the job won't begin until next July 1, the Corps of Engineers said. The channel will be cleared of all debris in the project, provided the city of Little Rock and Pulaski County provide without cost all lands, easements and rights necessary for the job.

Living Costs Continue to Spiral

By NEIL GILBRIDE
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Living costs rose five-tenths of one per cent in September, continuing the nation's sharpest inflationary spiral in some 20 years, the Labor Department reported today.

Clothing prices rose at about double the usual increase for September, food prices failed to show their usual decline for the month, housing costs continued to rise and there were increases for all kinds of consumer services, said the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

The increase boosted the government's Consumer Price Index to 129.3. This means it cost $12.93 last month for every $10 worth of goods and services in the 1957-59 period on which the index is based.

However, Asst. Commissioner Arnold Chase of the bureau said it was encouraging that the rate of acceleration of price increases had stopped and he predicted next year's rise in living costs would be less than this year's.

Living costs have risen 4.5 per cent so far in 1969 compared with 3.4 per cent in the first nine months of last year, which had been the sharpest increase since the Korean War year of 1951.

Major Recalled in Hearing on Army Graft

By LAWRENCE L. KNUTSON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Retired Maj. Gen. Carl C. Turner was called to testify today before a Senate subcommittee investigating charges that as provost marshal he blocked an Army probe into alleged multimillion-dollar graft by a ring of top enlisted men.

The committee, which resumed hearings today after several days of recess, had heard testimony earlier from Turner concerning charges he had improperly obtained confiscated guns for his own use from civilian police officials in Chicago and Kansas City.

In an earlier session, James B. Conlisk Jr., Chicago police superintendent, said Turner lied when he testified Conlisk knew 396 weapons he obtained from the Chicago police force in 1968 were for his own use and not for Army exhibition and training.

Turner admitted he sold some of the weapons he received from the two departments. But he has insisted, despite signed receipts stating the opposite, the weapons were given to him personally and not in his official capacity.

The inquiry into Turner's gun transactions developed in the midst of the Senate investigations subcommittee's probe into the allegations he had used his position as provost marshal to cover up a criminal syndicate of sergeants organized to loot the NCO clubs they ran.

Another Lock, Dam Opened

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The opening of Lock and Dam No. 7 on the Arkansas River near Little Rock has made a 30-mile stretch of the river accessible to private and commercial boats.

The lock was officially opened Tuesday.

Col. Charles L. Steel, Little Rock District Army Engineer, said that pleasure boats can use the locks without prior notice, but that commercial boats will need advance permission.

Hurricane Heads Toward Florida Coast

MIAMI (AP) — Shoving squalls and high tides ahead of her, Hurricane Laurie thrashed eastward across the Gulf of Mexico today aiming her 100-mile-an-hour winds at Florida's heavily populated west coast.

Forecasters said tides would roll up to four feet higher than normal today in the Tampa-to-Naples area, about 150 miles, and warned that Laurie would be preceded by squalls with winds up to 55 m.p.h.

Small boats were told to stay in port all along the Gulf Coast and people in low areas were advised to be ready for quick action once the storm's landing point was apparent.

The sprawling storm churned toward Florida at about 8 m.p.h. and the National Hurricane Center predicted it would pick up speed as it bore down on its target.

A hurricane watch was posted from Cedar Key south to Everglades, a small community below Naples.

Dr. Robert Simpson, head of the hurricane center, said Laurie would batter the coast sometime Thursday morning. He said it was impossible to tell where she would make land.

Laurie's gales stretched 200 miles east and 125 miles west of her center.

Simpson said, "It is a very large, wet hurricane and is capable of bringing considerable damage to a large stretch of coastline."

Claims Agnew Discrediting Patriotism

By WALTER R. MEARS
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republican Leader Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania proposed today that the United States declare a cease fire in Vietnam. He denied he was floating a trial balloon for President Nixon.

"I hope that a cease fire may be called for," Scott said, thus joining in a proposal sounded repeatedly by Sen. Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., the majority leader. "This is not a trial balloon for the President, it's a personal hope."

Scott said the current U.S. tactics of protective reaction to enemy assault come close to a cease fire.

"But there is no formalized cease fire," he said. "I think the

Rebellion in Chile Has Ended

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — A teapot army rebellion that actually was more a sit-in for higher wages ended early today in Chile's capital after less than 24 hours.

A rebel communique, read over the government radio and television network, said the rebel leader, Brig. Gen. Roberto Viala Maramba, "has surrendered his command to Maj. Gen. Alfredo Mahn, the commanding general of the Santiago garrison."

Mahn had been the go-between for Frei and Viala in negotiations Tuesday afternoon and night.

The terms which brought an end to the rebellion were not immediately announced.

Democrat Is Leading in Atlanta Vote

By KATHRYN JOHNSON
Associated Press Writer

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Liberal Democrat Sam Massell piled up big margins in Negro districts to win election as mayor Tuesday over Republican Rodney Cook.

Massell, 42, vice mayor of Atlanta for eight years, received 62,632 votes to Cook's 51,289.

Cook, an alderman and state legislator, carried most of the mainly white wards, but was far behind in Negro areas.

Massell, a Jew, will have as his vice mayor Maynard Jackson, a Negro, first of his race to win the city's second highest office. Jackson won a majority in the Oct. 7 general election and was not involved in Tuesday's runoff.

Of Atlanta's 218,000 registered voters, about 85,000 are Negroes. One election observer said about 70 per cent of the black voters cast ballots.

Retiring Democratic Mayor Ivan Allen Jr., who called for Massell to withdraw from the race last Sunday because of what he termed improper fund raising, called the vice mayor's win "a great victory."

He went to Massell's headquarters to congratulate him. Allen said it appeared Massell had won a "strong mandate."

Massell claimed he was "smeared" when newspapers reported that his brother, accompanied by a police captain, solicited campaign funds from nightclubs. Massell denied any personal wrongdoing.

He charged that Allen, Cook and three other businessmen constituted a "power pack" trying to stop him at any cost because they couldn't control him and because he was a Jew.

Massell won 12,487 votes to 1,035 for Cook in one large Negro ward. He also picked up about 25 per cent of the vote in white areas.

Old 92 First Post With Girl Scouts

MANHATTAN BEACH, Calif. (AP) — What's new with the Boy Scouts?

Girl Scouts.
Explorer Post 92 was chartered last July with seven boys and two girls. The scouts decided about a year ago to let girls into specialty posts, such as this one, but the people here think Old 92 is the first mountaineering post with gal members.

The rules say girls can hold any office except president—but boys must always be in the majority.

Since the post was formed the group has taken several hikes, including a week-long backpacking trip into the High Sierra.

So how are the girls doing?
"Backpacking is strenuous work," says adviser Edward Eversold. "You have to carry a 25 to 30 pound pack all day and it can be dangerous."

"It's sort of a good feeling to see the girls, after a few days, forget about their neat appearance and become just as grimy as the guys. The back country is one place where the girls really begin to carry their own. They are as tough as the guys at this age and generally we find no difference in the distance we can hike, the terrain they can cover or the amount they can carry."

"In fact, it's rather nice to have them around. They cause a sort of social interaction, and things are more fun around the camp fire with singing and so forth."
